

Culture Days was an amazing success

On Saturday, October 1, five local organizations partnered to bring free and accessible cultural experiences to our community for the national celebration of Culture Days 2016.

The day was absolutely amazing - and if you were not able to catch the energy and synergy, speak to your neighbour and don't miss out next year! With food, art, set design, music and historical interpretation, this was our best-ever community access to the culture that embraces and defines who we are.

Many thanks to so many participants - but most especially to Steve Falk (Prime Data) for generously providing the Culture Days passports and to the always fabulous Auroran for its coverage leading up to the events and generous distribution of the passports. And special thanks to the performers who gave of their time and talent, to the Baha'i Assembly of Aurora and to the hundreds of people who celebrated this national event with us!
