

Four Mustangs named to YRAA All Star football squad

By Jake Courtepatte

Year after year, it comes as no surprise to see a handful of Mustangs names among the All-Stars nods in the York Region Athletic Association football league.

This year's crop includes the likes of receiver Joshua Torres, punter Andrew End, defensive back Matthew Vassos, and offensive lineman Jack Johnson.

Torres, named as an honourable mention following his first year with the Mustangs program, finished the season with eighteen receptions for 294 total yards, including three touchdowns.

Andrew End took punts for the league's third best team defensively, while Vassos was part of a defensive lineup to allow just 85 points throughout the YRAA's regular season.

The league champion Huron Heights Warriors of Newmarket dominated the All-Star lineup, voted on by the league's coaches.

Quarterback Sebastian Scott earned the only All-Star nod at the position, while Huron running backs Jericho Daher and Julian Curia made up the tandem at their position.

Twelve other Warriors players found their name on the list.
