

The Auroran's Carrier of the Month for January: Mason Barone

By Chris McGowan

13-year-old Mason Barone has been named The Auroran's Carrier of the Month for January.

Mason has been delivering The Auroran since home delivery started three years ago. Along with his dedication, he has proved to be responsible with the money he has earned as he has saved most of it, with the exception of purchasing a Samsung Tablet and a new bike, both this past summer.

Mason is a grade eight student at Northern Lights Public School, but will be attending high school at Dr. G. W. Williams Secondary School in September. He has an older sister, 16-year-old Madison and, along with his parents, they have two kittens, Mabel and Lucy.

Mason loves hockey and plays defence for the Aurora Minor Bantam AE Tigers team. His favorite NHL team is the Boston Bruins and his favorite players are Zdeno Chara and Patrice Bergeron. In the summer, Mason plays 3 on 3 hockey in both Newmarket and Richmond Hill.

He also loves to go camping and, of course, spending time at Wonderland.

Well done, Mason. Thanks for your hard work and dedication!
